DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-21, drawn to a polyester fiber having silica based inorganic particles.

Group II, claim(s) 22-27, drawn to a method of making a polyester composition having silica based inorganic particles and other particles.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: other particles of Group II is not required in Group I and the fiber of Group I is not required in Group II.

During a telephone conversation with Mr. Kubovcik on April 19, 2004 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-21. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 22-27 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The definition of V recited in claims 1 is not defined and thus claim is indefinite. The recited "the phosphoric compound" in claim 19 and "the antimony content" in claim 21 lack antecedent basis.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 4, 6 and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 08-113827 in view of Bailey (US 4,699,627) or Antikow et al (US 5,207,959).

JP teaches moisture-conditioning polyester fiber in abstract wherein a hard segment (alkylene terephthalate repeating units) and a soft segment (polyether-ester) and silica gel are seen. Said silica gel has the instant properties A and B as evidenced by the teaching in [0031], and the instant property C is an inherent property since JP teaches fiber has both characteristics of moisture absorption and desorption in abstract.

A fine granular silica gel inherently meets the instant aspect ratio of 1.0 to 1.5.

The instant invention further recites a polyester over the polyester-ether of JP. However, fibers made of polyester such as polyethylene phthalate (PET) is well known as taught by Bailey (abstract and col. 1, lines 9-13) and Antikow et al (abstract).

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art the time of invention to utilize the PET of Bailey or Antikow et al in JP since fibers made of PET or other (co)polyesters are well known in the art.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kamada et al (US 4,111,892) teach flame retardant polyester containing antimony compound and hydrated silica made by a wet method in abstract and at col. 4, lines 33-50.
